DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawing of Fig. 3 was received on March 11, 2009. This drawing is acceptable and the objection to the drawings is withdrawn.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on March 11, 2009 was filed after the mailing date of the first action on the merits. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Specification

The amendments to the specification have been entered.

Response to Amendment

The amendments to claim 1 was entered and overcomes the objection to claim 1. The amendment to claim 13 was entered and overcomes the rejection of claim 13 under 35 USC 101. The rejection of claim 13 has been withdrawn.

The amendments and arguments relative to claims 1, 8 and 13 have been considered and are persuasive. The rejections under 35 USC 103 have been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1, 8 and 13 are allowed over the prior art of record.

Art Unit: 3661

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Matsuoka describes that the server transmits map data and route data to the terminal device separately, guide points and guide information are provided in the route data and the terminal device displays the map and route and further displays the guide information at the guide point. Nakano describes that the server transmits only route data to the terminal device without transmitting map data and the terminal device outputs guide information at the guide point included in the route data from the server.

The allowed claims recite that the guide point is set if the route turn angle, e.g. at the intersection, is equal to or less than a predetermined angle. This feature makes it possible to set the guide point at a spot necessary for guidance in the route, i.e. a spot where the moving direction changes more sharply than the predetermined angle, and to provide the guidance to users for that spot. Matsuoka and Nakano do not disclose at least this claimed feature.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
